THE VIEWS, SPECTACULAR. THE FOOD, AMAZING.
THE PEOPLE, WELCOMING. THIS IS MAINE, WHERE THE UNEXPECTED COMFORTABLY LIVES AROUND
EVERY CORNER. IT'S IRONIC HOW THE STATE
WITH SUCH A SHORT NAME HAS A LONG LIST OF THINGS TO DO. BUT IT'S TRUE. HERE, THE FOUR SEASONS AND THE FIVE SENSES ARE THE
BEST OF FRIENDS. THIS IS A STATE THAT BEGS
YOU TO BE SPONTANEOUS AND DESIGN YOUR OWN DAY. SO LET OUR STATE WRAP ITS ARMS AROUND YOU. GET OFF THE BEATEN PATH AND VISIT US. THE MOMENT YOU ARRIVE, YOU WILL BE TAKEN TO A TOTALLY DIFFERENT PLACE.

DISCOVER a
BREATHTAKING VIEW.
GET YOUR BREATH BACK in TIME for the NEXT ONE.

In Maine, the arresting magnificence of our natural surroundings inspires and propels us to live each day to its maximum potential. Wake up on the coast, scale a mountain in the afternoon, and end your day in a wilderness lodge nestled deep within the forest. With a landscape as diverse as ours, boredom becomes obsolete and boundless possibility is the norm.

FAST FACTS

Maine is the first state to see the sunrise every morning.
No wonder we're all about the outdoors.

Maine has 3,500 miles of coastline. That's all the way across the USA and halfway back.

The Maine State Animal is the moose. In fact, we have more moose per square mile than any other state.

Like to fish or canoe? Maine has over 32,000 miles of rivers and streams and over 6,000 lakes and ponds.

Acadia National Park is the second most visited national park in the United States.

Your chances of finding a place to camp are quite good:
We have 542,629 acres of state and national parks.

Geographically, Maine is bigger than the other five New England states combined.

There are over 3,000 islands along Maine's coast. In other words, if you want to get away, we have plenty of options.

DINING

HERE, YOU'RE GOING to NEED a MAP. AND a MENU.

Maine has a whole set of its own iconic flavors. When you crack into the hard red exterior of a just-caught-and-cooked Maine lobster, you taste our heritage, our culture and the backbone of our hardworking economy. When you pick a ripe Maine blueberry and pop it into your mouth, you taste the sweetness of summer relaxation. When the flavor of fresh Maine maple syrup hits you, it's like sweet victory.

The eclectic dining scene in Maine is one of the best-kept secrets of the Northeast. Here, innovative chefs combine "farm-to-table" with "sea-to-table," creating dynamic dining experiences you'll never forget. Eat lunch on paper plates at an oceanside lobster shack and experience the best lobster roll you'll ever have followed by a classic Maine whoopie pie for dessert. For dinner, make reservations at one of our amazing restaurants and revel in the inventive flavors and unparalleled freshness. To truly experience Maine, you have to taste it.

FAST FACTS

Maine produces 99% of all wild blueberries in the country, making it the single largest producer of blueberries in the United States.

Approximately 40 million pounds (nearly 90%) of the nation's lobster supply is caught off the coast of Maine.

MANY EXPLORERS here
DISCOVER SOMETHING UNEXPECTED: Their OWN CREATIVITY.

Maine is an artist's refuge, a land of restorative calm with millions of acres filled with natural muses ready to ignite the creative spark. In Maine, the arts are treated as a state treasure: carefully cultivated and allowed to flourish.

From artist colonies to art museums, from street art to Maine-made crafts handed down through generations, we understand the necessity of art and integrate it into our state's culture. We invite you to explore all that Maine's arts and culture scene has to offer and hope you find your Maine muse along the way.

FAST FACTS

Portland is the birthplace of poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Author Stephen King is a resident of Bangor, Maine.

Edward Hopper settled in Ogunquit, Maine to produce seven oil paintings of his bucolic surroundings.

Film and television actor Patrick Dempsey was born in Lewiston, Maine.

Legendary artist Winslow Homer painted many of his masterpieces at his studio in Prouts Neck, which is open to the public.

Artist Robert Indiana lives in Maine; his famous "EAT" sign (right) is currently on display above the Farnsworth Art Museum in Rockland—it was first shown at the 1964 World's Fair.

SHOPPING

YOU CAN EXPLORE the GREAT INDOORS HERE too.

In Maine, you'll uncover unique diamonds in the rough at our many flea markets and antique stores, a variety of high-quality goods handcrafted by local artisans at our eclectic boutiques throughout the state, and a chance to shop at the iconic L.L. Bean flagship store in Freeport. A day of shopping in Maine translates to a day of discovery and treasure hunting, the spoils of which will (hopefully) tide you over until your next Maine shopping excursion.

FAST FACTS

L.L. Bean's flagship store is located in Freeport, Maine and is the first retail clothier to be open 24/7/365.

Maine is home to many of the best boat builders in the world: Hinckley, Sabre, Back Cove, Duffy, Lyman-Morse, Egg Harbor, Calvin Beal, Robert Stevens, Old Town Canoe, Downeast, L.L. Bean, Atlantic and The Landing School.

In Wilton, Maine there's a cannery that imports and cans only dandelion greens.

Sea Bags are authentic tote bags and accessories made from actual sails from boats on Portland's waterfront.

90% of the country's toothpick supply is produced in Maine.

LODGING

In MANY WAYS,
the WHOLE STATE TUCKS YOU
in the MOMENT YOU ARRIVE.

Whether you seek luxury or rustic charm, or if the only comfort you need is a clear night's sky full of stars, Maine can accommodate. Lodging options run the gamut from high-end accommodations with spa amenities to secluded log cabins away from it all. Campsites, wilderness lodges, adventure resorts, private rentals, hotels, and motels are all given the "Maine treatment" and await your arrival.

FAST FACTS

Maine's coastline has so many deep harbors, it could provide anchorage for all the navy fleets in the world.

America's first chartered city was York, Maine in 1641.

31.7: height in feet of Ed Jarrett's world-record sand castle, constructed in South Casco, Maine, in 2007.

Located off the coast of York, the light from the Nubble Lighthouse's Fresnel lens is visible for 13 nautical miles in clear weather.

CLIMATE

Maine enjoys a healthy, invigorating climate: Its smog-free air, moderate temperatures, and climatological zones ranging from mountain to seaside elevations combine to make Maine a highly desirable four-season destination.

Maine has one of the most comfortable statewide summer climates in the nation, with peak temperatures averaging about 70°F (21°C) throughout the state. Summer nights are usually cool and pleasant. Fall is one of Maine's most glorious seasons, with crisp, sun-swept days (averaging about 55°F) and cool evenings. Winters are generally cold, but prolonged cold spells are rare. Average snowfall is between 60 to 90 inches (152 to 228 cm), making Maine very popular with skiers and other winter outdoor enthusiasts.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Maine's wonderful range of accommodations will suit any taste, from simple to elegant. Enjoy historic inns, sea captains' houses-turned-B&Bs, grand resorts, rustic lodges, or convenient and affordable hotels and motels. For a searchable Maine lodging database, go to visitmaine.com.
