Welcome to MAINE'S LAKES MOUNTAINS

Maine's Lakes & Mountains region is an honest-to-goodness four-season recreational destination. Scores of trail-creased mountain peaks, fish-filled rivers and ponds, and swimmable lakes are here to be enjoyed by all.

Paired with these wonders of nature are the charms of towns that long ago laid claim to the dictionary definition of "quaint," including Bethel, Farmington, Norway, Rangeley, Waterford, Newry... the list goes on and is limited only by the time you have available while you are here.

Paddlers are delighted by the range of waterways we offer. Anglers of all kind and skill come prepared to fish in every season. Golfers and hikers alike have a world of choice, and both get to enjoy the spectacular views.

Even leaf-peepers looking for a relaxing autumn drive in the country will be thrilled by the epic seasonal color along our many scenic byways.

From a romantic weekend away, to a few weeks "at camp," the hardest part of making the most of a Maine Lakes & Mountains vacation is deciding what you'll do next.

Use this vacation planner, the map on pages 42–43, as well as our website MaineLakesAndMountains.com to uncover some of the best bits our year-round Maine vacation destination has to offer. Welcome.

Memories are made on - MAINE'S LAKES -----

Between Memorial Day and Columbus Day, our lakeside towns are alive with visitors eager to soak up our Maine charm. Begin with making a reservation at a lakeside cabin or a pleasant motel, country inn, or B&B for your stay. Now grab your crew and head to the water. Everything else can wait. Warm, sunny days are also perfect for a hike to a spectacular view, or stroll around town. Now and then get out for a drive—stopping to explore local sights, museums, or charming craft and gift shops. When night falls, experience dining, live music, the nostalgia of the drive-in, summer stock or just spending time with friends, new and old, under the stars.

SEBAGO LAKES

The Indian name Sebago (se-bay-go) means "great stretch of water." Carved by ancient rivers and cut by ice age glaciers, Sebago Lake fills a granite basin that has been weathered for millions of years. Thanks to those glaciers, visitors today can enjoy multiple watersports on Maine's deepest lake. Powerboaters, sailors, kayakers, canoeists, anglers, and beachgoers will all find something to enjoy here.

On Sebago's north shore is beautiful Sebago Lake State Park. The park's campground, with 250 campsites, is popular with families, providing lasting memories season after season. Wooded areas offer a respite from the sun and activity on the beaches. Whether hiking on marked trails or biking, visitors find many ways to enjoy the park.

GREATER BRIDGTON LAKES

If you're looking to experience "life as it should be," to know the hushed quickening of dawn, the clarity of a bubbling stream, or the painted wonder of the sun setting in concert with loons calling across a still lake, you'll feel right at home in the Greater Bridgton Lakes region.

The bountiful mountains, lakes, and woods set amongst towns with names like Sweden, Lovell and Denmark provide a vast playground for visitors, offering a multitude of year-round activities. From the excitement of skiing the mountain peaks in the winter to hiking wooded trails in the spring, swimming, fishing, and paddling on a lake of glass in the summer to leafpeeping in autumn, this pristine lakes region will capture your heart and never let it go.

FLAGSTAFF AREA - MAINE'S HIGH PEAKS REGION

A pontoon boat ride on Maine's largest, man-made lake with the dramatic 4,000+-ft. Bigelow Range looming above, fly-fishing at Stratton Brook Pond at an almost 1,400-ft. elevation, kayaking on myriad rivers and ponds awaiting discovery, or preparing today's catch over a campfire on the shores of the Chain of Ponds after a day of fishing and swimming are adventures for visitors all ages.

The Northern Forest Canoe Trail can be accessed at the Stratton boat launch, where motorboats are also welcome. You can find serenity with a knock-out view at Cathedral Pines Campground, located on the western shores of Flagstaff Lake. The Dead River Area Historical Society museum exhibits the "lost" towns of Flagstaff Lake, including the village of Flagstaff, named for the flagpole erected by Benedict Arnold's men during his famous march to Québec in 1775.

RANGELEY & OQUOSSOC

The Rangeley and Oquossoc area consists of six major lakes plus hundreds of smaller lakes and ponds. Get to know the area aboard one of the Rangeley Regional Cruises, or simply take in the views of these waterways along the Rangeley Lakes National Scenic Byway. Make sure to bring along a picnic lunch to enjoy beside one of four waterfalls. Complete your visit with a stop at the Rangeley Outdoor Sporting Heritage Museum, named the Best Sporting Museum in New England by Yankee magazine.

Cruise back in time on The Oquossoc Lady, a beautifully restored 1947 vintage wooden launch at the Saddleback Marina in Oquossoc. You'll circle around Rangeley Lake while the captain shares an intimate glimpse of the lake and its history from a unique perspective.

lconic and windswept, our mountains tell a spellbinding tale, whether you come to play on their sun-drenched faces or to traverse their quiet paths to spy unmatched vistas. Discover the secrets of our beautiful mountain villages and why rustic sporting types come to enjoy world-class hunting and fishing in rough-hewn places. Then, when the wintery flakes take flight, return again as our steep slopes welcome you back for another set of thrills. Welcome to the mountains of western Maine, where each season is bound to delight, surprise, and refresh.

FRYEBURG

Visitors of all kinds will be delighted by Fryeburg, one of the oldest of the region's mountain villages. Hikers should survey the entire area from atop Jockey Cap mountain; be sure to look for the monument to former resident Robert Peary (of North Pole discovery fame). Swim or paddle awhile in Lovewells Pond or go for a serene trip down the Saco River. Maybe ride quietly through the town's wide, welcoming streets, passing nearly a dozen spots on the National Register of Historic Places along the way (including three of its picturesque parks). Of note at Fryeburg Academy is Leura Hill Eastman PAC bringing world-class performances to town. People also know Fryeburg because of the long-running and hugely popular fall agricultural fair—considered by many to be Maine's (and New England's) finest.

BETHEL

Situated between some of Maine's tallest mountains to the north and the White Mountain National Forest to the west, Bethel is an ideal starting point for bicycle, automobile, and hiking tour loops. Learn more about this picturesque mountain village at the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center, which hosts exhibits in two of the town's earliest homes, or take a self-guided walking tour. This serene hamlet, with its unique boutiques and quaint eateries, is deceptively popular with hiking enthusiasts seeking challenging new heights and thrill-seekers drawn to plummeting ski slopes.

NEWRY

Newry is home to Sunday River, Maine's second-largest ski resort with 135 trails across eight interconnected mountains. The area also caters to Nordic skiers with several ski touring centers. The Grafton Notch Scenic Byway begins just north of Sunday River and travels along Route 26 to Grafton Notch State Park and Lake Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge. At Grafton Notch State Park, you can go hiking, rock and ice climbing, or picnic along the Bear River.

MAINE'S HIGH PEAKS REGION

From Kingfield to the Canadian border, this area offers an abundance of exciting outdoor adventures with a backdrop that stimulates the senses. Home to 10 of Maine's 4,000+-ft. mountains, skiing, hiking, snowmobiling, snowshoeing, ATV riding, dog-sledding, and mountain biking are favorite activities. Shops and galleries full of treasures dot the Maine High Peaks Scenic Byway corridor. Kingfield is home to the Ski Museum of Maine, the Stanley Museum, and Maine Huts & Trails. Learn about the history of Maine's ski industry, see an original Stanley Steamer, start a journey along a 75-mile network of beautifully maintained trails for non-motorized recreation, and experience real back-country hospitality.

In neighboring Carrabassett Valley, Sugarloaf Mountain, at 4,237 feet, is Maine's largest ski area and the setting of the state's premier championship golf course. Enjoy the Narrow Gauge Pathway, which follows the Carrabassett River, where trail enthusiasts can walk, run, bike, or enjoy cross-country skiing and snowshoeing. Continuing north, in the Town of Eustis and Township of Wyman, you can begin an Appalachian Trail hike or connect to interstate and international snowmobile and ATV trails, either for a day trip, or for longer adventures!

RANGELEY

Rangeley is built for outdoor recreation, from skiing, snowboarding, or snowmobiling in the winter to hiking and golf in the spring and summer.

Those looking to take in all there is to see should slow the pace while heading to Height of Land up along Route 17. Whether it be the breathtaking sunset behind Toothaker Island—the verdant jewel floating in the delightfully named Mooselookmeguntic Lake—or the endless (or is it endlessly changing) Maine skies. The view looks great from the top.

At Rangeley Lake State Park, explore nearly 900 acres of land. You'll find a swimming area on the lake's southern edge as well as a picnic area and ballfield. Launch your motorboat, or paddle away from the concrete boat ramp. You can also hike and camp here a small campground provides 50 sites for tenting, camper trailers, and RVs as well as a playground.

In the town of Rangeley, you can visit the Rangeley Public Library, or the Oquossoc Log Church, both of which are on the National Register of Historic Places. You can also learn more about scientist Wilhelm Reich or visit the Rangeley Lakes Region Logging Museum. At Rangeley Friends of the Arts Theatre, take in a concert or show.

TIMELESS CHARMS

Spend some time in this part of Maine's Lakes & Mountains and your world kind of slows down. Things here just seem to be so easygoing. It's the nature of things, when you sit at the crossroads, whether it's the crossroads of history or the crossroads of industry. Here's the secret: the whole area sits right smack in the center of it all, close to just about everything. So, don't rush your visit. Hike a waterfall, visit a museum or step back in time to living history at Washburn-Norlands. Next up, a lazy-day picnic along the Androscoggin River.

JAY, LIVERMORE & LIVERMORE FALLS

Jay, Livermore & Livermore Falls sit on the cusp of Maine's western mountains and at the gateway for several ski areas. Spruce Mountain Ski Slope in Jay is a blast from the past where you rise 300 vertical feet to the summit via its tow rope lifts. Warm weather exploration will take you to the nearby Androscoggin River, with canoeing, kayaking, or bass fishing. You can also take the Source to Sea Canoe Trek to explore the river. In Jay, you can hike to scenic overlooks of the river at Pine Island Park or along a one-mile trail through an orchard at North Jay's White Granite Park.

Head over to the 14-mile Whistlestop Trail, which starts off Route 4/17 in Jay across from French Falls and ends in West Farmington. This multi-use trail accommodates virtually all forms of motorized and non-motorized recreation.

Livermore is home to the Washburn-Norlands Living History Center, a 455-acre complex that includes restored structures ranging from a one-room schoolhouse to farm structures to a Victorian Mansion. Learn firsthand about living and working in Maine of the late 1800s.

FARMINGTON

Agricultural heritage runs deep in this community. Come buy produce from local farmers at the Farmington Farmers Market or the Sandy River Farmers Market. The town is also home to the University of Maine at Farmington (UMF), where you can attend performances and lectures. In December, Farmington celebrates Chester Greenwood Day, honoring the inventor of earmuffs with a parade, and the Festival of Trees.

For those looking to explore on foot, the Healthy Community Coalition offers walking maps of Farmington. At UMF's Fitness & Recreation Center, you can take outdoor adventure workshops and clinics through its Mainely Outdoors program.

Take a walk through Farmington history by following walking tour signs that will take you by the Farmington Library, UMF's Merrill Hall, Hippach Field, the old corn cannery, the Farmington Historical Society's Old North Church, the original narrow gauge railroad depot, and the site where the devastating fire of 1886 began, destroying most of the downtown area.

THE RIVER VALLEY

The River Valley is home to Black Mountain Ski Area, where you can ski or snowboard by day or under the lights at night. The mountain is also home to cross-country trails developed by local two-time Olympian Chummy Broomhall, and has hosted many national cross-country ski championships.

Alternatively, when the weather turns warm, you can fish for bass along the Androscoggin River or visit Rumford Falls (formerly known as Pennacook Falls), which gradually plunge nearly 180 feet. Hike along the River Walking Trail to spot statues of Paul Bunyan and his Blue Ox Babe. Rumford is also home to former US Secretary of State and Senator Edmund Muskie.

In addition to Rumford, the River Valley is peppered with the towns of Andover, Byron, Canton, Carthage, Dixfield, Hanover, Mexico, Peru, and Roxbury. Each of these friendly western Maine towns offers their own take on quaint New England historic buildings, tree-lined streets, village greens, white-steepled churches, and country stores.

Interestingly, in Byron in the 1830s, gold was discovered in the Swift River. Even today, recreational gold panning is still enjoyed along the branches of the river.

This area boasts spectacular views from Mount Zicron. For those looking for man-made beauty, look for the Lovejoy Covered Bridge in Andover, one of six within the Maine's Lakes & Mountains Region.

+++Winding along Route 26+++

It is not at all surprising that Route 26 began as a Native American mountain-to-sea trade route. Follow us on our quick northbound tour from where the route intersects with I-95 in Gray to tiny Woodstock in the foothills of the western mountains. Of course, thrilling outdoor recreation can be found along each turn, so take your time. Just one visit to the places along Route 26 will have you coming back for a lifetime.

GRAY

To be guaranteed a sighting of the state's beloved moose, you need not go any further than The Maine Wildlife Park. It's home to 30 of Maine's indigenous species—many of which arrived at the park because they were orphaned or injured—and provides a valuable wildlife and conservation education resource. Park guides offer scheduled tours and talks, and the park hosts a number of events throughout the year.

NEW GLOUCESTER

Next, visit the cluster of tidy buildings that comprise the Sabbathday Lake Shaker Village, for a look at life as it has been since the community was established in 1783. There are tours, a museum, library, workshops, and a shop available for visitors. Nearby, Pineland Farms is a pastoral 5,000-acre site that has been transformed into an organic farm, business campus, and welcoming recreational and event venue.

POLAND

Poland Spring Preservation Park is home to the Poland Spring Water Museum—you can even see the original spring, the Maine State Building from the 1893 Chicago World's Fair, and the serene All Souls Chapel. Next door is the Donald Ross-designed course surrounding America's Oldest Golf Resort.

OXFORD

North of Poland is the community of Oxford, now home to a new thrill— The Oxford Casino. Opened in 2012, it quickly grew in popularity with local and visiting fun-seekers looking to take a chance at going home a winner. Oxford is also home to the famous Oxford Plains Speedway and its Annual 250 held each summer. September welcomes the Oxford County Fair with its demolition derby, rides, and harness racing.

NORWAY

Norway offers the nicest kinds of diversions. Shop at locally owned stores housed in buildings that date from the early 1900s. Or visit the annual three-day Norway Arts Festival in July, featuring more than 120 artists celebrating visual and performing arts. North of town you'll find Lake Pennesseewassee (Norway Lake) to paddle the day away or fish for brown trout, pickerel, and landlocked salmon.

SOUTH PARIS

The McLaughlin Garden & Homestead sits at the center of this community, with its respected horticultural pedigree including Maine's largest collection of lilacs. Celebration Barn Theater showcases its internationally known school for physical theater that attracts touring artists, actors, dancers, mimes, jugglers, and storytellers. The town is also home to the Paris Hill Historic District, a well-preserved collection of 19th-century homes and civic buildings worth seeking out.

WOODSTOCK & BRYANT POND

Our journey through this part of the region ends at Bryant Pond and Woodstock. This rural town and its pretty pond are well-loved by many native Mainers. A unique claim to fame? It's home of the last "crank" call ever made—well, the last call with a crank phone ever made. The pond is also home to the University of Maine 4-H Camp & Learning Center.

TOWN AND COUNTRY — LEWISTON AUBURN METROPOLITAN AREA —

With a shared population approaching nearly 60,000, the "twin cities" of Lewiston and Auburn (LA) are the cultural and economic center of Androscoggin County. Sitting just above and between the downtowns of both cities are the Great Falls of the Androscoggin River, which powered the area's rise to prominence during the last century as the heart of Maine's shoe and textile industry. Visit Museum L-A, located in one of the former Bates Mill buildings, to see the whole story.

UP IN THE AIR

Today, visitors can see the falls up close with a walk along the Androscoggin River Walk, a mile-long paved trail that travels from the falls south to a pedestrian bridge crossing the river to Lewiston's Simard-Payne Memorial Park—home to celebrations like the Liberty Festival (July 4), the Dempsey Challenge in the autumn and The Great Falls Balloon Festival, which fills the August sky with dozens of spectacular hot air balloons.

LEWISTON: A CITY OF LANDMARKS

Maine's only basilica, Saints Peter and Paul, is the second-largest church in New England. Completed in 1936 to serve Lewiston's large French-speaking population, it was modeled after Chartres, featuring a striking rose window. Another prominent landmark, Thorncrag Nature Sanctuary, is the highest point in the city and a protected bird habitat with more than 70 documented species sightings.

AUBURN: LAKE AUBURN AND MT. APATITE

Auburn is the bucolic counterpart to Lewiston's more urban offerings, with farmhouse-lined, winding country roads hinting its agricultural heritage. Here you will also find easy access to the area's landlocked salmon and bass fishing in the pristine waters of Lake Auburn. For rock hounds there is feldspar, smoky quartz, tourmaline, and, of course, apatite to be unearthed at Mount Apatite, located west of downtown.

CELEBRATE WITH THE ARTS

Each of these cities offers up a shared collection of cultural gems: the Public Theatre, the state's highest-rated equity theater; with 60+ annual performances at the Dollard and Priscilla Gendron Franco Center; the annual Emerge Film Festival; the Bates College Museum of Art, and the world-renowned Bates Dance Festival held each summer at the college's Lewiston campus.

A COMMUNITY OF COMMUNITIES

Further exploration of the greater Lewiston Auburn area will reveal a collection of towns, each with something special, whether it be a favorite ice cream shop, antique store, maple barn, or event like Lisbon's Moxie Festival. An outing into the surrounding towns of Minot, Mechanic Falls, Hebron, Turner, Buckfield, Sabattus, Lisbon, and Greene will reveal that they all add something unique to this community.

Looking for an active outdoor vacation? Peaceful family retreat? Maine's Lakes & Mountains offers activities for everyone. For the outdoor aficionado, bring your reel and your creel for lake trout and world-class landlocked salmon. Kayak our vast network of waterways. Hike to the peaks of the Bigelow Range or ski some of New England's most challenging terrain.

Taking it easy? Then take in the region's spectacular scenery along our Scenic Byways. Visit our covered bridges (there are six). Tour a living history museum. Attend a theatrical performance or simply relax by the lake listening for the loons.

PUT THE FUN BACK INTO THE FAMILY VACATION!

SEASONS IN THE FUN

To have fun with (and like) a kid you sometimes need to get out of the parental mindset—think like a kid! What makes them laugh? Or embrace digital downtime? Tough questions, but we also know that once a family bonds with a place like Maine's Lakes & Mountains, the connection is impossible to break.

FORGET THE "BOX," THIS IS JUST THINKING OUTSIDE

In the summer, rent some canoes and paddle up the Songo River—wait in line to open the hand-operated locks. Paintball, anyone? Spend a wild autumn day at the Maine Wildlife Park in Gray. Snowy days call for snowboard lessons or a dog-sledding adventure for the whole pack.

FREE FAMILY FUN

It doesn't have to set you back too much to have a good time. Take a hike up Streaked Mountain in South Paris for an endless view of the region—look SW to spot the Presidential Range in the White Mountains. Fishing from shore, a boat, or on the ice is a simple way for families to connect with nature and each other, especially on Maine Free Fishing Days held annually in February and June.

TIME FOR THE NIGHTCRAWLERS

The campfire is tough competition. It's warm and nostalgic, a therapeutic end to a full day with the added bonus of guilt-free marshmallows. We have just the right nighttime activities to square off against the allure of the fire. Hit the Bridgton Drive-in (celebrating 60 years of silver screen magic) or split your sides at the Celebration Barn in South Paris.

BE PREPARED-THERE BE WEATHER HERE

Weather is a fickle thing here in Maine. Even a partly cloudy day can ruin the best-laid plans. The best defense is a good offense. There is stuff to do nearby guaranteed to chase the clouds away. Take a spin at the Rollodrome in Auburn. Heard of candlepin bowling? There may even be an alley right up the lane from where you are staying.

SENSATIONAL SEASONAL EVENTS

Sometimes timing is everything, so pay attention. One area where Maine's Lakes & Mountains shines is with its annual events. Our event section has a good selection to pick from, but we consider these to be family-friendly frontrunners: Ice Fishing Derbies (February), Maine Maple Sunday (March), The Stratton Family Fun Days (June), Moxie Festival (July), Great Falls Balloon Festival (August), Fryeburg Fair (October), Chester Greenwood Day (December).

Once you get the hang of it, spending time as a family and finding things to do here make for an excellent way to build lasting, happy memories. Now go.

Lakeside Beaches

Maine's Lakes & Mountains region overflows with many freshwater beaches. Enjoy the easy refreshment of a cool dip in crystalline lakes set like jewels amid lush green forests. With so many it would be crazy to limit yourself to just one.

STATE PARK BEACHES

Mt. Blue State Park

299 Center Hill Rd., Weld 207-585-2347 (In-season)

Spectacular views of Mt. Blue and surrounding mountains ring this lakeside park that boasts a wide variety of activities for park visitors year-round. Mt. Blue State Park offers visitors an extensive network of trails, a sandy beach, popular camping area, boat launch, and picnic area. Fee charged.

Range Pond State Park 🕓

26 State Park Rd., Poland 207-998-4104 (In-season)

A short drive from one of Maine's major urban areas, Lewiston and Auburn, Range (rang) Pond State Park welcomes visitors who enjoy its wide sandy beach as they swim, picnic, and play. Most activity centers on the waterfront, which is easily accessible because of the smooth, surfaced promenade that parallels the pond for 1,000 feet directly adjacent to the beach. Fee charged.

Rangeley Lake State Park

South Shore Rd., Rangeley

207-864-3858 (In-season)

The park consists of 869 remote acres, on the 10square-mile Rangeley Lake. The lake is famous for landlocked salmon and trout fishing. In addition to water sports, visitors enjoy hiking, picnicking, camping, wildlife-watching, and nature photography. The 50-site campground and day-use areas offer picnicking, swimming, and a concrete boat ramp with floats. There is a children's play area, hiking trails, and modern restrooms with hot showers. Fee charged.

Sebago Lake State Park

11 Park Access Rd., Casco

207-693-6613 (In-season) This forested lakeside park is situated on the shore of Maine's deepest and second-largest lake. Near the foothills of the White Mountains, the park's 1,400 acres feature sandy beaches and extensive woodlands. Hiking and biking trails are also located in and around the park. Amenities include a day-use area, tables, grills, a boat ramp, lifeguards, and bathhouses; 250-site camping area; flush toilets; hot showers. Fee charged.

LOCAL BEACHES

Anasagunticook Lake

1 Mile off Route 108, Canton Just 20 minutes from the River Valley business district, you can find the "Stone House" in the middle of the lake built in the early 1900s. Open to the public, no fee.

Cathedral Pines Campground

945 Arnold Trail, Eustis

207-246-3491 / GoPinesCamping.com Cathedral Pines Campground is located on Flagstaff Lake on a 300-acre plot of red pine amid some of New England's most spectacular scenery. The beach is open to the public and offers gorgeous views of the Bigelow Mountain Range, playground, and picnic tables. No Fee.

Dundee Park

79 Presumpscot Rd, Windham | 207-893-2415 Located on the Presumpscot River in Windham, this park is a place for a fun family outing offering a calm, sheltered swimming place, especially for young children. IF IT'S TIME TO LEAVE THE REAL WORLD BEHIND

Maine's Lakes & Mountains boasts numerous private campgrounds and designated camping sites, from well-maintained state parks like family-friendly Sebago Lake State Park to the sidelines of the Appalachian Trail; each offers outdoor experiences for every age. Some even have winter camping for heartier souls seeking the ultimate in cold weather adventure.

One of the best things about camping in Maine's Lakes & Mountains is that no matter how you camp we can accommodate. Wilderness tenting? An RV park in a white pine grove? You can even skip the gear and rent a cabin or cottage for that classic Maine getaway. Keep in mind, if you want a lakefront site or the perfect mountain view, you'll need to make your reservations early!

Explore a PADDLER'S PARADISE

Whether you canoe, kayak, or even SUP, paddling the waters of Maine's Lakes & Mountains is an exceptional, perhaps transformative way to explore the region. Regardless of your skill level or ability, there are a variety of ways to grow your passion for paddling when traveling to the region, from flat-water kayaking to multi-day canoe trips or even highly technical paddling in pulse-quickening whitewater. Camp and paddle canoe trips along the Saco River, the Northern Forest Canoe Trail, the Androscoggin River, or numerous other waterways can easily turn a few days away into lasting vacation memories.

More than anything, when you are paddling, you become part of the landscape—traveling through it, experiencing it firsthand not simply looking at it. The forests, mountains, and lowlands are laced with a network of watersheds, lakes, rivers, and streams begging to be explored, and forested woodland rich in wildlife and history. Many are ideal for camping excursions. As an added benefit, paddle outfitters, rentals, shuttle services, instruction, and guided trips are all available.

With more covered bridges than any other part of the state, the bridges of Maine's Lakes & Mountains stand as rustic and rough-hewn reminders of the craftsmanship, engineering, ingenuity, and thrift that are the defining characteristics of a "New England Yankee." Created to extend a bridge's lifespan and to calm easily spooked horses, these now-protected structures continue to capture the imagination of travelers.

BABB'S BRIDGE South Windham/Gorham

Built in 1843, the bridge is a one-span queen post truss construction with a total length of 79 feet. The original bridge was destroyed by fire in 1973, and an exact replica was completed in 1976. Getting there: From the Windham Post Office go SE on Roosevelt Trail toward Tandberg Trail for 0.6 mi. Turn right onto River Rd. Go south for 4.3 mi. Take a right onto Covered Bridge Rd./Hurricane Rd. and follow to the bridge for about 1/2 mi. Drive time is about 8 minutes.

BENNETT'S BRIDGE Lincoln Plantation

The bridge, built in 1901, has trusses of the Paddleford type with a total length of 93 feet spanning the Magalloway River. The bridge was closed to traffic in 1985. Getting there: From the Rangeley Post Office go northwest on ME-4 (Main St.) toward Park Rd., following ME-4 N for 6.6 mi. Turn right onto ME-16 W and follow for 22.4 mi. Turn right onto Littlehale Rd. (closed in winter) and follow to bridge in 3/10 mi. Drive time is about 40 minutes.

HEMLOCK BRIDGE Fryeburg

Built in 1857, the bridge is a 109-foot Paddleford truss strengthened with laminated wooden arches and reinforced to carry local traffic in 1988. Getting there: From the Fryeburg Post Office, take Main St. N. 6.9 mi. Turn right onto Frog Alley and travel 2 mi. to bridge. Drive time is about 20 minutes.

LOVEJOY BRIDGE Andover

The bridge, built in 1868, is 70 feet long and spans the Ellis River. Constructed of Paddleford trusses, it is Maine's shortest covered bridge. Getting there: From the Andover Post Office, head south on E. Andover Rd. toward Rumford Center Rd. 1.5 mi. E. Andover Rd. turns slightly right and becomes Covered Bridge Rd. Drive time is about 5 minutes.

PARSONSFIELD-PORTER BRIDGE Porter

The bridge, built as a joint project by the towns of Porter and Parsonsfield over the Ossipee River in 1859, is a 152-foot structure of Paddleford truss construction strengthened with laminated wooden arches. Getting there: From the Parsonfield Post Office, head west on ME-25 W/Federal St. toward Elm St. Continue to follow ME-25 W 2.7 mi. Turn left onto ME-160 Rd. and travel 0.2 mi. Turn left traveling 160 feet then turn right to bridge. Drive time is about 6 minutes.

SUNDAY RIVER BRIDGE - THE ARTIST'S BRIDGE Newry

The bridge, built in 1872, is named The Artists' Bridge because of its reputation as being the most photographed and painted of the venerable covered bridges in Maine. The bridge wa closed to traffic in 1958. Getting there: From the Newry Post Office turn left onto Sunday River Rd. traveling 1.2 mi. Make slight right to stay on Sunday River Rd. Bridge will be on left. Drive time is about 4 minutes.

Welcome photographers, hikers, and waterfall enthusiasts, Maine's western mountains offer these 15 waterfalls for your approval. Tumbling nearly 180 feet over solid granite, Rumford Falls (Pennacook Falls) is the highest cascade east of Niagara. Angel Falls is one of Maine's highest single-drop falls at 90 feet. Poplar Stream Falls and Swift River Falls have captured the hearts of photographers, artists, and waterfall enthusiasts alike.

FIND A REAL MAINE ANTIQUE

With roots dipping back to before the dawn of our great nation, there is some really old stuff here, and a quick trip up Route 302 on your way to Bridgton will bring you past many, many antique shops open and looking to make their old stuff your new stuff. You can also while away a few hours on Route 25 in Cornish or take an entire day browsing the malls, barns, and shops along Route 26 from Gray to Norway.

Keep in mind that in an area as spread out as Maine's Lakes & Mountains you might just find the best stuff "along the way." So keep your eyes peeled for those OPEN flags.

FARMERS MARKETS: BUYING HYPER-LOCAL

If you go out on a Saturday morning you will spot the welcoming Farmers Market Today signs everywhere from Lisbon up through Rumford and into Bethel or Kingfield. Fresh veggies, corn, and tomatoes in midsummer to squash, pumpkins, and apples in fall. Artisanal goat cheese and tasty baked goods. Hearty soups and breads made from Maine heritage grains. Just-cut wildflowers for the table, and prime cuts of pork and locally raised, grass-fed beef. New potatoes, braids of garlic, or sour and snappy dilly beans. Apple pies, blueberry pies, chicken pies, or even "secret recipe" whoopie pies.

Sure, the lobsters have been brought in from the coast, but you can be guaranteed that everything else you find, even the yarn, will be from within 30 minutes. And as they say, "It's all good." So whether it's just a couple of tables or a grand affair with dozens of vendors, take the time to stop in and pick up something tasty for lunch or dinner. For an up-to-the-minute list of Farmers Markets, visit GetRealMaine.com.

PLACES WITH A LITTLE BIT OF EVERYTHING

There's a mite bit of distance between the towns of Maine's Lakes & Mountains region and the bigger shopping destinations in the state. Most of the time, we wouldn't have it any other way. But one solution that works well is to visit places like Renys (the Maine Adventure originated in Bridgton), Paris Farmers Union (numerous locations throughout the region) and Marden's.

These are real Maine general stores with a little bit of everything. Whether it be some birdseed or a pair of boots, a snow sled or a couple of jars of Moxie jelly, you are likely to find it in any (or all three) of these places and other local stores just like them. And if they can't get it for you, you probably didn't need it anyway.

Maine's Lakes & Mountains offers spectacular ways to hit the trail—whether backpacking through the woods, climbing Jockey Cap or just strolling through Thorncrag. While seasoned hikers seek out tougher hiking trails, novice hikers can also find a good selection of trails.

BETHEL AREA

ANDROSCOGGIN RIVER RECREATION TRAIL Off Route 2, Bethel

The river is a great natural resource for all to enjoy the beauty of wildlife in its natural habitat. Bald eagle, great blue heron, whitetail deer, moose, fox, coyote, otter, and more can be spotted along the trail.

MAGGIE'S NATURE PARK Off Route 26, Greenwood

Located on Greenwood Rd., 1.5 miles from Route 26, in Greenwood, the park boasts well-marked loop trails of varying distances that wind through the woods and offer superb views of Mt. Abram and surrounding ponds.

MOOSE CAVE GORGE

Grafton Notch State Park

Located within a 45-foot-deep canyon of bedrock where water skirts boulders and temporarily disappears into a cave beneath a granite slab, the trail also loops through a moss garden located on the ledges of the mixed-growth forest.

MOTHER WALKER FALLS GORGE Grafton Notch State Park

Located 1.1 mile north of Screw Auger Falls, the falls are in a v-shaped gorge more than 40 feet wide and 980 feet long. This cascade of water roars over broken rocks falling into small pools and gradually descending 98 feet.

STEP FALLS TRAIL

Off Route 26, Newry

This trail ascends alongside Wight Brook, with its popular swimming holes and striking views of the Mahoosuc Mountains around Grafton Notch.

FRANKLIN COUNTY

DAGGETT ROCK

Wheeler Hill Road, Phillips

An uphill trail on an old woods road, this short hike leads to one of the largest glacial erratics (a really big rock) in New England. Near the trailhead is an old foundation, probably of the Daggett farmstead. There are several geo caches hidden around the rock.

FLINT WOODS AND VILLAGE WOODS

Anson Street/Titcomb Hill Road, Farmington This network of forest trails offers easy-to-moderate terrain for year-round, non-motorized use. Explore the many trails to find old wells, vernal pools, scenic overlooks and more, a few blocks from downtown.

KINEOWATHA PARK

Wilson Lake, Wilton

The park's trails wander through old pine forests, along the shores of Wilson Lake. This short network of trails provides easy and relaxed walking as well as picnicking and swimming. The trails are not marked, but are well-worn and are easy to follow.

GREATER BRIDGTON

HOLT POND

Route 302, Naples

Take a leisurely walk on boardwalks and dry trails that cross the mossy wetlands. Enjoy the view of Bald Pate Mountain and the surrounding hills. You may park your car at Lake Region High School and walk through the woods to Holt Pond.

JOCKEY CAP

Off Route 302, Fryeburg An easy one-third-mile climb to the summit of a naked gray granite outcrop resembling its namesake. The 360° views at the summit are identified on a monument erected by Fryeburg resident and Arctic explorer Robert E. Peary.

PONDICHERRY PARK

Off Route 302, Bridgton

The park includes 66 acres of woodlands and streams in the heart of Bridgton. The wood-chipped pathway leads you deep into the park, where there are signs of beaver, deer, mink, and spotted salamanders.

JAY/LIVERMORE/LIVERMORE FALLS

FOUNDRY TRAIL

Bridge Street, Livermore Falls

Along the Androscoggin River, this walking and paved biking trail winds around the Livermore Falls Recreation Area; the site is where the first pulp paper mill in Maine was built by Alvin Record.

FRENCH FALLS RIVER WALK

French Falls Drive, Jay

This trail features two short loops of half-and three-quarter-mile, respectively, winding down behind either side of the recreation fields and providing lovely views along the river. Portions of the park are flooded in the winter for public skating.

THE WHISTLE STOP RAIL TRAIL

Route 4 North, Jay

This converted narrow gauge railroad bed—great for walking, running, biking, horseback riding, ATV riding, and snowmobiling—will take you all the way to UMaine's Farmington campus. Remember this is a multi-use trail. Please share the trail.

LEWISTON AUBURN METRO AREA

MOUNT APATITE PARK

Stevens Mills Road, Auburn

This 325-acre wooded park is best known by rock hounds for yielding crystals of tourmaline and quartz (special rules apply). An extensive network of forested trails links abandoned quarries, gleaming slag piles, steep ledges, and giant boulders.

THORNCRAG NATURE SANCTUARY

Highland Spring Road, Lewiston

The largest bird sanctuary in New England, this 372acre wildlife preserve is open from dawn to dusk for bird-watching, walking, snowshoeing, cross-country skiing, picnicking, and more.

MAINE'S HIGH PEAKS

CATHEDRAL PINES PATHWAYS

Off Route 27, Eustis

Cathedral Pines Pathways offers easy hiking, biking, snowshoeing, and cross-country skiing through towering pines and a boardwalk traversing a bog with spectacular views of the Bigelow Range.

CROCKER MOUNTAIN CIRQUE

Off Route 27, Carrabassett Valley

Featuring a reflecting pool surrounded by the towering walls of North and South Crocker Mountains, this trail is an easy hike that offers a variety of settings for lunch or an overnight stay at the small campsite.

NARROW GAUGE PATHWAY

Off Route 27, Carrabassett Valley Parking available along pathway. A non-motorized multi-use trail with a surface of crushed packed stone, very smooth and easy for any age. Bikers please yield for pedestrians. Free Nordic skiing, grooming provided by Carrabassett Valley.

POPLAR STREAM FALLS

Off Route 27, Carrabassett Valley

Consists of two scenic waterfalls on two streams, with drops of 24 and 51 feet, and a swimming hole. The falls are an easy 1.5-mile walk in a gorge on the right.

OXFORD HILLS

MOUNT TIRE'M

Off Route 37, Waterford

This easy hike takes only an hour to reach the summit, where you will be rewarded with views of Bear Pond and Long Lake. There are no blazes, but the trail is well-worn and easy to follow.

ORDWAY GROVE

Pleasant Street, Norway

Ordway Grove is an inspiring short loop trail through some of the oldest white pine and oak in the area. Great views of Lake Pennesseewassee (Lake Norway).

ROBERTS FARM PRESERVE

Roberts Road, Norway

This intricate trail system located on a 165-acre preserve includes an ADA compliant loop, two cross-country ski trails, and a hiking trail. Situated above Lake Pennesseewassee, there are expansive views of the lake and mountains beyond.

STREAKED MOUNTAIN

Off Route 117, South Paris

This is a challenging but rewarding hike. Once on the granite slope, the hike is one continuous view of the Little Androscoggin River Valley, the Oxford Hills, White Mountains, and the Presidential Range.

VIRGIL PARRIS FOREST

Sodom Road, Buckfield

Packard Trail is a 2-mile trail network punctuated by many scenic features—views of South Pond, several marshes, a dozen glacial erratics and small waterfalls. Five short side trails lead to various scenic points.

RANGELEY LAKES

ANGEL FALLS

Off Route 17, Rangeley

This trail leads to Argel Falls, one of Maine's tallest and most unique waterfalls. The fall has a 90-foot "hanging" plunge and in high water the cascading water creates the shape of an angel's wing, giving the fall its name.

CASCADE STREAM GORGE TRAIL

Off Route 4, Rangeley

This short trail leads into the 90-foot-deep gorge of Cascade Stream providing access to a series of waterfalls and chutes. A higher trail away from the stream offers a loop opportunity. There are many wildflowers and interesting plants within the gorge; be sure to bring a wildflower guide if you have one!

PIAZZA ROCK

Off Route 4, Rangeley

A nice hike for children offering interesting rock formations. Enter Appalachian Trail northbound on Route 4, nine miles south of Rangeley.

RANGELEY LAKES TRAILS CENTER

524 Saddleback Mountain Road, Rangeley Seven miles of trails are available for hiking, walking, nature-watching, and more. For mountain biking there are 2 miles of easy trail (to steel bridge and back along Tote Road). The remainder is suggested for advanced mountain bikers.

SADDLEBACK MOUNTAIN

976 Saddleback Mountain Road, Rangeley Explore Ethel and Eddy Ponds and hike to the open summit of Saddleback Mountain where hikers are rewarded with sweeping views of the Rangeley Lakes to the west and high peaks region to the east.

RIVER VALLEY

COOS CANYON

Route 17, Byron

A beautiful scenic gorge carved into bedrock by the Swift River located in Byron. Walking trails, viewpoints, and picnic tables are available. In addition, you can swim or pan for gold in the river.

RUMFORD WHITECAP MOUNTAIN PRESERVE

Coburn Brook Road, Rumford

Within the preserve, two trails lead to the summit from the parking lot providing either two distinct experiences or the opportunity for a loop. During late summer, the area is widely known for its blueberries that grow on the upper ledges.

SWIFT RIVER WALKING TRAIL

Intersection of Route 2 and Route 120, Rumford The Swift River Walking Trail is a paved walkway that meanders through a young deciduous forest. The trail parallels the Swift River and provides many beautiful views from the river's banks.

SEBAGO LAKES REGION

BALD PATE MOUNTAIN TRAIL

Off Route107, Bridgton/Sebago

This preserve, consisting of 486 acres of forest, meadows, and granite-topped summits, offers hikers trails boasting scenic views, a forest returning from past timber harvests and ice-storm damage, a unique pitch pine habitat with fragile soils at the summit, and a haven for wildlife.

DONNABETH LIPMAN PARK

Chaffin Pond Reserve Road, Windham This 1.5 mile trail loops around Chaffin Pond and through a wooded setting. In the summer the trail has story walk signs for children. Parking is free and leashed dogs are allowed.

DOUGLAS MOUNTAIN PRESERVE Off Route 107, Sebago

This 169-acre preserve located in Sebago offers a network of short but challenging trails that lead up to a stone observation tower with expansive views of the region. The preserve has a rich history and was donated to the town of Sebago by the Maine Chapter of The Nature Conservancy.

MAYBERRY HILL PRESERVE

385 Mayberry Hill Road, Casco This 1-mile trail starts at the kiosk on Mayberry Hill Road and runs through woodlands, meadows, and streams. Parking is free and leashed dogs are allowed.

THE APPALACHIAN TRAIL

A fascinating and challenging hiking trail stretching across the eastern US, The Appalachian Trail, commonly referred to as simply the AT, includes 281 miles throughout the state of Maine. Arguably, the most intense portion of the trail encompasses the western section of the state. While you are visiting Bethel, you can check out the "Toughest Mile" in the nearby Mahoosuc Range, or join the trail at one of many access points throughout the region.

For more information on hiking the AT in Maine, visit AMCMaine.org.

MAINE HUTS & TRAILS

A nonprofit organization that manages a system of four backcountry eco-lodges and nearly 80 miles of trails in western Maine, Maine Huts & Trails offers "off the grid," hut-to-hut adventures coupled with comfortable and friendly accommodations.

For more information visit MaineHuts.org.

MAINE TRAIL FINDER

A free online resource for people-powered trails in the state. Search a growing database of four-season trails to find the right trail for your next adventure. Browse interactive trail maps, trail descriptions, pictures, and trip reports at MaineTrailFinder.com.

THE EAST COAST GREENWAY

A developing trail system, The East Coast Greenway consists of 3,000 miles of networked trails linking Calais, Maine, to Key West, Florida. Maine's Lakes & Mountains is home to both The Lewiston Riverside Greenway (4.8 miles) and the Lisbon Trail System (3.5 miles), which have been designated part of the East Coast Greenway system.

It's not an easy task for birders to explain the allure of seeking out and observing wild birds in their natural habitat. Our only advice is to give it a try. Maine's Lakes & Mountains is the ideal setting for experiencing the thrill of this popular hobby. Our forests, fields, and wetlands are worth the investment of your time and energy. We recommend Sebago Lake State Park and the Brownfield Bog or the highly prized boreal forests of Grafton Notch State Park and the mountains surrounding Rangeley.

BALD MOUNTAIN

Oquossoc: As the forest begins its transition to balsam fir and spruce, boreal species increase.

BIGELOW PRESERVE

Stratton: Above 3,000 feet, look and listen for Bicknell's Thrushes. Bigelow Mountain is a strenuous, all-day hike well worth the effort.

BOY SCOUT ROAD

Oquossoc: This dead-end dirt road provides excellent birding through a mixture of habitats. Boreal Chickadees and Gray Jays are resident, and other northern birds are likely.

BROWNFIELD BOG

Brownfield: One of the most reliable Maine locations to find Yellow-throated Vireos and Blue-gray Gnatcatchers.

GRAFTON NOTCH STATE PARK

Newry: Philadelphia Vireos dominate the dawn chorus. Peregrine Falcons nest on the cliffs. Spot Boreal Chickadees, Black-backed Woodpeckers, Gray Jays and Spruce Grouse.

THE GREATER LOVELL LAND TRUST

Lovell: Many common warblers, woodpeckers and flycatchers nest within the preserve. A viewing platform overlooks a bog.

THE HEALD POND PRESERVE

Lovell: Good for common warblers and thrushes.

HUNTER COVE

Rangeley: Found annually are Boreal Chickadees, Cape May Warblers and Blackburnian Warblers.

MT. BLUE STATE PARK

Weld: Features breeding Hermit Thrushes and Winter Wrens. Many common warblers are easily located, and Scarlet Tanagers are often audible.

RANGELEY LAKE STATE PARK

Rangeley: A trail winds along the edge that yields many of Maine's common songbirds.

SABATTUS POND

Sabattus: Surprising numbers of Semipalmated, Least, and White-rumped Sandpipers are joined by Pectoral Sandpipers and more.

SADDLEBACK MOUNTAIN

Rangeley: The most reliable place to find Bicknell's Thrush. Notorious for singing only at dawn and dusk, but its call notes may occur at any time.

THORNCRAG NATURE PRESERVE

Lewiston: This 372-acre preserve includes 3 miles of easy trails where a variety of common songbirds are present.

WHITE MOUNTAIN NATIONAL FOREST

West Bethel: Wetlands in this area are extraordinarily rich in birds and moose. Waterfowl are abundant in spring and fall.

SIMPLY UNFORGETTABLE — SPOTTING WILDLIFE IN MAINE'S LAKES & MOUNTAINS

MOOSE: IDEAL VIEWING TIMES & LOCATIONS

Moose can be seen throughout our state, but their population is greatest in the areas known as "the Maine Woods," which include a large part of Maine's Lakes & Mountains. The best times to spot them are at dusk and dawn from mid-May through July and again in the fall during their breeding season, called the rut. Fall is also when the impressive antlers of the bull moose are fully formed. They will shed their antlers in November or December, and new, larger antlers will begin to grow in the spring.

Many experts list Maine's Lakes & Mountains' Franklin County as a top place in the state to spot a moose. Here are some of the better known moose-watching spots:

Route 4: Between Phillips and Rangeley

- Route 16: Between Rangeley and Stratton
- Route 16/27: Between Stratton and Carrabassett Valley
- Route 27: Between Eustis and Chain of Ponds

Because of their massive size, moose find it easier to move about in open areas. They can often be spotted along logging roads, diving for dinner in wet boggy areas, hanging out in gravel pits and clip-clopping down hiking or snowmobile trails.

GOING ON A SAFARI

To improve your chances of seeing a moose, contact an outfitter that specializes in moose-watching tours, also known as moose safaris. You'll have the opportunity to safely and comfortably view these magnificent creatures as you learn about moose habits and habitat from a knowledgeable guide. At the right time of year, tours in some regions have spotted as many as 20 moose in a single outing.

Visit our website to learn more about spotting a Maine moose.

A VISIT TO THE WILD SIDE

Our region offers a highly diverse habitat filled with all kinds of wildlife—from a pesky (but cute) squirrel that finds its way into the bird feeder to endangered hawks and turtles. Being this close to nature affords us many more opportunities to experience the beauty of nature than most people ever realize, including these:

- White-tailed Deer
- Moose and Black Bear
- Ruffed Grouse and Wild Turkey
- Canada Lynx and Bobcat
- Bald Eagle and Red-Tailed Hawk
- Coyote and Red Fox
- Beaver, River Otter, and Muskrat
- Fisher, Marten, and Mink
- Raccoon, Skunk, and Porcupine

MULTI-USE TRAILS: The only way to go

HOP IN THE SADDLE. CLIMB ABOARD. GRAB YOUR GEAR. NOW GET OUT ON THE TRAIL AND GO.

Numerous trail systems are available for multiple-use here, there, and everywhere—from those on our reserved public lands and state parks to local trails or those designated for ATVs and snowmobiles. The only thing limiting the potential for fun on these trails is your imagination.

Multi-use trails are exactly that. They can be used for ATV riding, hiking, snowshoeing, horseback riding, Nordic skiing, off-road biking, and snowmobiling. However, not all the trails are for all uses. So know before you go and respect the rules for the safety and enjoyment of all.

For motorized recreation, snowmobilers have access to local clubs and the ITS system, plus the woodland roads and trails used by Maine game wardens are generally open to use by ATVs— but please tread lightly.

THE WHISTLE STOP TRAIL: A MULTI-USE TRAIL FOR US ALL

Offering 14 miles of converted rail line between Jay and Farmington, this multi-use trail for both motorized and non-motorized use includes wetland wilderness and beaver habitat. Travel past waterfalls and take in the scenic mountain views along the way.

MOOSE LOOP TRAIL: FRANKLIN COUNTY

A 170+-mile ATV loop trail circles the heart of Franklin County, connecting trail systems for seven clubs offering the widest variety of trails in the East. Test your technical skill on steep trails, rocky outcroppings, and mud holes or tour wooded trails enjoying the scenery.

MT. BLUE STATE PARK: WELD

ATV riders are welcome to experience 25 miles of challenging, multi-use trails in the largest state park in the region. During winter, the park's trail system is open for snowmobiling, snowshoeing, and cross-country skiing. In the summer months, the trails are open for hiking, mountain biking, and horseback riding.

ANDROSCOGGIN RIVERLANDS STATE PARK: TURNER

Enjoy the park year-round. The multi-use trail (9.5 miles one way) is popular among ATV riders, snowmobilers, bicyclists, horseback riders, Nordic skiers, snowshoers, and hikers, while the Bradford Loop Trail (12.2-mile loop) requires advanced ATV and snowmobile riding skills.

Motorized trail riding is an excellent way to enjoy the 3,000+ miles of well-maintained trails here. No gear? No problem. Trailside outfitters offer everything from helmets and equipment rentals to snacks and fuel. For more information on walking and hiking trails in the region refer to pages 24–25 in this guide.

For information on ATV-ing and snowmobiling visit MESnow.com or ATVMaine.org.

LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO RIDE?

Day trippers can try the trails in Range Pond (Poland) or Mt. Blue State Park (Weld) or the Androscoggin Riverlands (Turner).

Those interested in remote adventures can include trips to either the Dead River or Richardson Public Reserved Lands.

The State of Maine offers a search tool for information on trails on state lands at bit.ly/MultiuseTrails.

Here are the best picks from the list of State Parks and Public Reserved Lands:

- Bald Mountain, Rangeley
- Bigelow Preserve, Stratton
- Four Ponds, Rangeley
- Mahoosuc Reserve, Newry
- Pineland, Gray
- Range Pond State Park, Poland
- Richardson Reserve, Rangeley
- Sebago Lake State Park, Naples

Some top locally managed trails are:

- Bethel Recreational Trails, Bethel
- Foundry Road Path, Livermore Falls
- Papermill Trail, Lisbon

These options are great, but don't limit yourself. Do your own research. Try asking the manager of your campground or resort. Use the web or find a local club and pick up a map. The trail systems are growing so fast we can barely keep up.

– CATCH A MESS OF FISH –

The terrain in Maine's Lakes & Mountains creates an endless supply of cold swift running streams and rivers and nearly every pond or lake offers up a thrilling challenge. Trout, bass, and salmon—so many of these beauties are waiting to be lured onto your hook. Summer or winter. From the shore, in waders, on a boat, or through a hole in the ice.

Without question, fishing here is one of the most exciting adventures you can have in the Maine's Lakes & Mountains region—a long-standing hot spot in the history of fly-fishing and a place with no shortage of superior bass fishing either.

Fly-fishing: This region's countless waterways offer, perhaps, the finest wild brook trout population in America. Places like Mooslakemaguntic and Rangeley Lakes and their flowing counterparts, the Rapid and Kennebago Rivers, are a good place to start—remote, pristine, and very much filled with hefty trout. The Rapid River is even considered by some to be the top Wild Brook trout in the US. Then again, the Upper Dam Pool is also famous for producing many trophy-size trout.

Look to Bethel and Rangeley for some of the best bets on lodging and hospitality for your trip and take the time (seriously) to visit the Outdoor Sporting Heritage Museum in Oquossoc to put context in the importance and history of this sport for the region. Many of the most successful flies ever tied came out of this part of the state.

Landlocked Salmon are another prized fish, and The Richardsons (Upper and Lower) can be reached from launches at Mill Brook. As a bonus, they also offer the only spot in the region where you can catch Togue. Sebago Lake is the place to be for early spring trout fishing here. It's southerly position makes it very popular, once the ice is out, with thousands of anglers throughout the country ringing in the new season with excellent fly-fishing.

Bass Fishing: Fly-fishermen aren't the only ones having a great time on the water here. Smallmouth and largemouth bass as well as perch and sunfish also are fun to catch in this region. Even the folks at Bassmaster Magazine have identified the crystal-clear waters of Kezar Lake as a prime spot for big bass. But we know that many, many waterbodies top the list of the Maine bass angler, including Androscoggin Lake and Androscoggin River. In Greenwood, head to Twitchell, Indian, and Round Ponds as well as Moose Pond in West Paris for a great day of fishing.

Don't forget that when the weather turns cold the water under the ice is still filled with hungry fish. Folks drag shacks out onto their favorite pond and start setting up traps just as soon as the ice is thick enough to safely withstand it. Plus, the Hardwater Culture in Maine has grown in popularity with families joining derbies offering prizes—what an excellent way for kids to fall in love with this timeless sport.

Tip #1: Hire a guide; these talented men and women are worth every single penny. Tip #2: Make sure to fish on the Maine Free Fishing Days in February and June.

For more detailed information on fishing in the region, visit our website, Maine.gov/ifw/ or MaineGuides.org/

WHITE-TAILED DEER

After years of decline due to habitat loss and other concerns, the Maine deer herd is once again strong and on the rise. Few states match the quality of the Maine deer hunting season. Hunters of all skill levels have an excellent chance at tagging a trophy and are certain to enjoy the legendary scenery of the Pine Tree State.

MAINE MOOSE

What deer offer in volume, the moose makes up for in popularity, from the annual moose permit lottery, which has now become quite an attraction of its own, to the excitement of the season's arrival. In Maine, we make a big deal out of the moose hunt, and with some tagged moose coming in each year tipping the scale at over 1,000 pounds, you can see why.

MAINE BLACK BEAR

The exciting 16-week-long Maine black bear hunting season runs from the last Monday in August to the final Saturday in November and offers the well-prepared hunter a comfortable timeframe in which to take up to two bears (one each by hunting and trapping).

WILD TURKEY

With a spring (May) and fall (October) season to take wild turkey, bow and gun hunters have two seasons each year to hunt this surprisingly challenging bird. Work on your calls and your camouflage to really display your prowess. Be certain to be a good neighbor and get landowner permission before hunting somewhere new.

REGISTERED MAINE GUIDES

Beginning with our own Cornilia Thurza "Fly Rod" Crosby, Maine Guide #1, the title Registered Maine Guide has been earned with hard work and is a badge worn with honor. More than simply a "test," the Registered Maine Guide is a distinction issued only to those who have demonstrated a thorough knowledge of Maine's outdoors. A Registered Maine Guide is as much a part of Maine's outdoor sporting heritage as sporting camps and Bean boots.

MAINE SPORTING CAMPS

If you are looking to be totally initiated into Maine sporting life, consider pairing a fully guided hunt with a stay at a traditional family-run Maine sporting camp or wilderness resort. From "dark thirty" breakfasts to sharing stories around the woodstove, every meal is memorable and each night you will climb exhausted into a snug bed piled high with warm blankets and quilts.

HUNT WITH A LICENSE

Anyone hunting in Maine must possess the proper license. Be informed: our laws, guidelines, and seasons often vary from year to year. A guide will have the information you need, but if you choose to hunt without the help of a guide plan ahead; make advance arrangements for where you're going to stay, and what you're going to hunt.

Please visit Maine.gov for up-to-date season information and to purchase your license before you arrive.

SCENIC BYWAYS

Driving through Bethel or the River Valley areas offers up Rumford Falls, Coos Canyon, and the towering Mahoosuc Mountains. While the Sebago and Rangeley Lakes regions contrast by offering unrivaled sights of waterways and breathtaking long-range vistas, Lewiston Auburn and Oxford Hills area roads share some of the region's prime architectural gems. Flagstaff reveals its unspoiled cathedral pine stands and the roads surrounding Jay and throughout Franklin County pass through prime wildlife viewing spots. Finally, the Bridgton driving tour offers a window into our own history with its many small museums and a working blacksmith shop.

RANGELEY LAKES SCENIC BYWAY

National Scenic Byway: Crystal-clear lakes and rolling mountains set the backdrop for fantastic vistas along Routes 4 and 17. This drive offers many opportunities for outdoor recreation such as golfing, boating, fishing, hiking, wildlife-watching, skiing, and snowmobiling.

GRAFTON NOTCH SCENIC BYWAY

State Scenic Byway: Once a route marked by swift-moving rivers flowing through the mountain valley, this drive begins in Newry, just north of the Sunday River Ski Area, and travels along Route 26 to Grafton Notch State Park and Lake Umbagog, which crosses the New Hampshire border. This byway follows along the Bear River for much of the trip. Pack a picnic lunch for a stop in Grafton Notch State Park or hike to Screw Auger Falls or Mother Walker Falls.

MAINE HIGH PEAKS SCENIC BYWAY

State Scenic Byway: Well-traveled by winter sports enthusiasts who flock to the region for skiing and snowmobiling, the byway begins in Kingfield and winds along the Carrabassett River, revealing views of Mount Abram and the Bigelow Range, including Sugarloaf USA, along the way. North of Stratton, the route passes Flagstaff Lake and goes through Cathedral Pines, the largest stand of oldgrowth forest in the state. Route 27 then continues northward through the Chain of Ponds and climbs up the Boundary Mountains to Coburn Gore and the Canadian border.

PEQUAWKET TRAIL SCENIC BYWAY

State Scenic Byway: Following Route 113, this byway derives its name from the Sokokis Indian tribe that once inhabited the Saco River Valley. Visitors can discover the local work of artisans and craftsmen, experience sustainable working farms and historic villages, and view abundant wildlife in unbelievable habitats. Along the journey, the Saco River and the Mountain Division Rail meander parallel to the byway, which runs between Standish and Fryeburg, offering swimming, fishing, and kayaking, or cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, and snowmobiling. The White Mountain National Forest offers scenic vistas and provides miles of world-class hiking and climbing for all levels of outdoor enthusiasts.

DRIVES THROUGHOUT THE REGION -

BETHEL AREA

Departing Bethel on Rt. 2, stop and take a few photos at the popular Artists' Covered Bridge before traveling to Newry. Then, at one of the deepest bends in the Androscoggin River at Rumford Point, head north on Rt. 5 to the historic village of Andover. From there catch breathtaking views of Umbagog Lake as you journey to Route 26 and through Grafton Notch State Park. Here, look for the Spruce Meadow trailhead to hike a piece of the storied Appalachian Trail or find trails taking you to several of our region's majestic waterfalls. Finally, head back into Bethel along Route 26 to complete your journey.

GREATER BRIDGTON AREA

Head west from Naples, along the Causeway (Rt. 302) between Brandy Pond and Long Lake to Bridgton. Just beyond Shawnee Peak is the road to the Hemlock Covered Bridge (1857) spanning the Saco River. Return to Rt. 302 and follow it west into Fryeburg, taking Rt. 5/113 south toward Baldwin to pick up Rt. 107, then bearing right on Rt. 11/114 to Sebago Lake State Park in Casco/Naples. This wooded lakeside park features extensive sand beaches and excellent swimming, fishing, hiking, and boating. Make time when you are in the area to visit the historic hand-operated Songo Locks. Following Rt. 11/114 will take you back to your starting point in Naples.

LEWISTON AUBURN METRO AREA

Driving through Lewiston and Auburn gives visitors a glimpse of how two of our state's most industrious cities grew. Brick and stone downtowns fringed with streetcar suburbs built on the successes of long-departed industries. Downtown Auburn and the Veterans Memorial Bridge feature the iconic Great Falls of the Androscoggin River that powered the mills that still line the river. Across the river you spot the spires of The Basilica of Saints Peter and Paul, New England's second largest church, a few blocks from Sabattus St., one of the city's primary arteries that will take you east to Thorncrag Nature Sanctuary (at the end of Highland Spring Rd.) and the highest point in the city. The attractive and historic campus of Bates College is another of Lewiston's prominent features; look for the Olin Arts Center off Russell St. Returning to Auburn and heading north on Rt. 4 takes you to Lake Shore Dr. and a pleasant ride around Lake Auburn; North Auburn Rd. and West Auburn Rd. will take you through more bucolic parts of town and near Lost Valley Ski Area. Those looking for a pleasant day out should seek Range (sounds like "sang") Pond State Park. It offers excellent opportunities for picnicking in a pine grove and swimming from a sandy beach.

OXFORD HILLS AREA

This area offers a delightful collection of stops for all to enjoy. Beginning in South Paris, enjoy a cool moment of peace in the shade provided by McLaughlin Gardens; from here you can head north on Rt. 26, looking for signs leading to the Paris Hill National Historic District. Along the way, you'll pass the pretty Cornwall Nature Preserve. Once in Paris Hill, you can explore its collection of 18th- and 19th-century residential homes. Further along Rt. 26 you will find Snow Falls on the Little Androscoggin River in West Paris; it makes a great place to stop for a picnic. As the most heavily mineralized region of Maine, the Oxford Hills are a mecca for rockhounds. Not far from here is the designated Historic District of Main Street, Norway, which has seen a community-based resurgence in the last few years; also look for Pleasant Street, home to the Ordway Grove, a collection of 200-plus-year-old white pine trees. From here take Rt. 118 to Rt. 35 to Harrison. Along the way watch for the spectacular views of the Long Lake region and the Presidential Range from Mt. Tire'm. Stop in friendly Waterford, set on the crystal-clear Bear Pond. Arriving in Harrison, you'll find it a beautiful gem set in the foothills of the White Mountains between Long Lake and Crystal Lake. For paddlers, there is a great put-in at Scribner's Mill on the Crooked River just a few miles from town. Then, tracking along Rt. 121 will take you through rural Otisfield and on to Rt. 26, which will bring you back to the start by way of Oxford, home to Oxford Casino and Oxford Plains Speedway.

WESTERN MAINE MOUNTAINS AREA

Beginning in Livermore, follow Rt. 108 east and back in time to the Washburn-Norlands Living History Center, a "working" 19th-century farm and living-history center. After a visit, head north through Livermore Falls and Jay on Rt. 4 into Farmington—stopping at Jay Hill Scenic Vista en route. Once in downtown Farmington, take Rt. 43 and Mosher Rd. to see the Mosher Hill Scenic Vista's exceptional view of Mt. Blue and Tumbledown Mountain.

Return to Rt. 27/4 and head north, bearing right and following Rt. 27 to intersect with Rt. 234 in New Vineyard. Take Rt. 234 back toward Rt. 4, passing Spruce Mountain Rest Area in Avon on the Sandy River. From Rt. 234, turn left on Rt. 145, then right onto Rt. 4 until it merges with Rt. 142 south. Look for the Sandy River Railroad Park in downtown Phillips and Mt. Blue State Park in Weld—a lakeside park, surrounded by magnificent mountain scenery with hiking, swimming, fishing, and a place to picnic. Following Rt. 142 south to Rt. 2 will bring you back to Rt. 4 in Farmington and then south to the Jay/Livermore Falls area where you began your trip.
